A NOBLE SWEDISH WOMAN.

The Lady Who Imitates the Famous Agnes Weston in Work Among the Poor.

Miss Hedenstrom felt one day a personal call, and became conscious of a new life within her. Women are not allowed to preach the gospel in Sweden. Impelled by the sense of mission laid upon her, Miss Hedenstrom left the land of her birth. Her intention was to find out Miss Reeves and go to India to help in gospel work. With this intention she traveled over to London. There the terrible tragedy of sin, enacted in the highways and by-ways of the great city, enrolled itself before her, and it came upon her that there lay the field of her work. The spectacle of the Scandinavian sailors, who are so largely employed in the English merchant service, and who appeared so homeless, exposed to such dire temptation on London shores, especially appealed to her.

She grew impelled to warn, advise and pray with them in their own tongue. Some ten years ago the Stranger's Rest was opened in a back alleyway by Mr. Radcliffe and Miss McPherson, and a few earnest people. The idea was to form there a centre for Gospel teaching among the seamen of all nationalities, congregating in the London docks. Miss Hedenstrom found her way thither one night with the purpose of addressing herself to the Scandinavian tars. The terrors of that night, the humiliating insults to which she was exposed on her return through the nightway, are still vividly impressed upon her mind—abandoned women jostled her, mocked her, pulled her by the hair.

"I determined never again to go down that awful road," she said, "but the Lord had determined otherwise—I went again and again." Each time that she preached her audience increased in numbers, her hearers grew more reverent and attentive and the work grew and its attendant difficulties increased it became more and more evident to her that this was the mission she had been intended to fill—to be a help to her countrymen in a foreign land. For three years the young Swedish woman labored with preaching and prayer among the Scandinavian sailors in London. Then the need of a respectable home for them became apparent. The men over and over again had expressed this need to her. They told her they knew not where to go to escape from the temptations raging around them. After many struggles the Scandinavian Temperance Sailors' Home was opened on October 25, 1880, which has since been visited by hosts of seafaring men to be housed and cared for. An average of twelve hundred men lie down to four substantial meals, and to realize the extent of work Miss Hedenstrom accomplishes it must be remembered that she alone rules over that large household, lays in its provisions, works and serves its inmates.

HE BEARS A CHARMED LIFE.

The Story of a Man who was not Born to be Drowned.

There is a sailor on Lake Michigan who seems to bear a charmed life. When the fury of the gale is at its highest and the waves are swaying to a way that threatens to engulf every craft upon them, he is in his element. He sails alone in a little sloop not thirty yards long, trading potatoes and apples between the shores of Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. He was out in the terrible storm that foundered the propeller Vernon, and came into port in the midst of it. He had been out in a hundred storms before, and he lived through them in a little shell without stanch schooners went to pieces, but he declared that he had never before been out in such a gale. People who witnessed his exploits in the storm, and the strange way that the sloop was tossed about like a chip. It would disappear entirely and then bob up again, until dropped from view between the next two waves. The old man— he is 70 years of age—was mighty glad to get into port.

"I wouldn't have given half a dollar for my chances of living twenty-four hours," he said to a disbeliever, "but I am a sailor and crowded around him when he reached his dock, just above 'the iron bridge.' When that storm broke I took a swig from my whiskey bottle, grabbed the rudder, held on as hard as I could, and trusted in Providence. I expected to be washed overboard every minute, I can tell you."

Nobody knows who the old man is. Apparently he has no relatives, either on land or lives solitary and alone. He bores his head about nobody, and nobody about him. When an inquisitive person asks his name he replies that it is the same as that of his boat, and when a person looks for him on the boat goes without a name. Though three score years and ten, the old man looks a giant in health, as he is in stature. His ruddy face and red nose contrast oddly with his gray beard and hair.

The Jews of Russia.

There are three millions of Jews in the southern and western sections of Russia. They are most numerous in Lithuania and White Russia. They prefer to live in villages or towns that are not seats of government, and in Wilna they form ninety-two per cent. of the population. They purchase or lease large areas of land. These lands they do not cultivate themselves, but sublet them in small lots to the peasants. Their profits as middlemen have hitherto been very large. In Bessarabia they have obtained long leases of agricultural land belonging to some foreign convents which they have sublet at high rates. In Podolia almost all the large estates situated in the basins of the affluents of the Dniester, are held by Jews at long terms. The soil is exhausted after five or ten years' cropping, and within the last decade there has been a fall of thirty per cent. in the value of landed property.

Origin of the Christian Name, William.

A correspondent in Notes and Queries, in reference to the Christian name, William, says:—"Most persons, I suppose, consider this name to be Norman—Wilhelmus or Guilielmus. But I read in an old magazine the other day a statement to the effect that it is really of Saxon birth, and that its origin is as follows:—Whenever a warrior killed a Roman, the gilded helmet of the latter was removed after the battle and placed on the brow of the victor, who thenceforth was styled Gilde-helme, or Gilde-helme. The French, it is added, corrupted this into Guilielmus."

A Unique Way of Zipping.

An old traveler has discovered a unique method of feeling the hotel waiter so as to secure the best result. He says: "At the beginning of the first week at the hotel, should the attention of the waiter prove satisfactory, I quietly take a five-dollar bill from my pocket, and place it across the center, and with a penknife cut it in two pieces. At the end of the week I present the waiter with one half, placing the other in my pocket-book, with the remark that if his attention continues satisfactory I will at the end of the week present him with the other half. This scheme works like a charm."

THE FIRE WORSHIPPERS.

The Ancient Tribe of Guebres, Followers of Zoroaster.

The religion of the Guebres is several centuries older than Christianity. They are followers of Zoroaster, who regarded the sun, moon and stars as objects of worship, and fire as a sacred element to be treated with reverence and awe. Wherever they are sufficiently numerous and wealthy they keep a light in their temples sacred fire, which are never allowed to become extinct from year to year from generation to generation. Priests are employed to keep these ever-burning fires alive by constant attendance and feeding them with fuel. In Bombay and other Indian cities, where the Guebres (in India they are known as Parsis) are still numerous and wealthy, the sacred flames are maintained at great expense. The fires are fed with sandalwood and other fragrant and costly substances, and large quantities of spices are cast into the flames to be consumed. They treat the ever-burning fire with the same superstitious reverence that the Hindus bestow upon their idols, rich Guebres spending their money freely to present it with fragrant woods and spices. The priests, whose function it is to replenish the fires with fuel and see that they are never permitted to go out, regard the flame as a very sacred thing. So much so, that they are said to wear a sacred mouth and nostril when they approach the sacred flame, lest they should defile it by contact with human breath.

"The curious result—which I doubt not many people will regard as a good one—of the Guebres, reverence for fire, is that none of them indulge in the habit of smoking tobacco. They may use tobacco as snuff, or even chew it if so inclined, but the Guebres who should be found with a lighted pipe or cigar in his mouth would at once become an object of abhorrence to his co-religionists. They would regard him with much repugnance, as a person who had wantonly defiled his own god by putting his representative, fire, to an unholy use. Centuries ago, when Mohammedanism, the religion of the sword, swept over Persia, offering to the old fire-worshipping population the alternative of conversion to the new religion or death by the sword, all the Guebres that preferred to cling to their own belief and could get away fled to India. In the City of Bombay alone there are now about one hundred thousand fire-worshippers, or near seven-tenths of the whole population. They are the most enterprising people in India, controlling a large share of the commerce of the entire country. Their business enterprise and ability has made them very wealthy, so much so that the present King of Persia, Nasir-ud-Din, Shah-in-Shah, Asylum of the Guebres, has lately turned his august mind in that direction. Not long ago he sent a memorial to the wealthy Guebres of Bombay, stating how much he loved them, and inviting them to gather up their riches and come back to their ancestral home. The Guebres, however, not to be caught in any such oriental trap as this. They are now enjoying happiness and prosperity under the British rule in India, and are too wise and wary in their ways to place themselves and their property within reach of an oriental despot, even though he be so amiable a specimen as 'Asylum of the Guebres.'"

A curious thing about the few remaining Guebres in Persia is that while the rest of the population about them, both Persian and Armenian, are notorious dishonests and hard to know what is to be the truth, they are an honest and reliable people. As a consequence of this recognized valuable trait of character in the fire-worshipping families, they are almost always to be found in positions of trust. Their chief occupation is that of guardians over the private property of wealthy Persians. Thus it would not be surprising to find the trustees of the ancient fire-worshippers in Persia to point a moral, to teach us that honesty is recognized and appreciated in every part of the world.

A Story of Jesse James.

"Now that I am on the subject of trotting," said Secretary Hall, of Detroit, in the rounds of the Merchants', "I am reminded of an incident that took place in 1875 at the Kansas City meeting. There were several thousand people congregated in the vicinity of the ticket office, when suddenly a band of men rode into the inclosure and began discharging firearms apparently right into the crowd. As they approached the ticket office, entering, and are the people collected there senses the ticket man had been overpowered and his cash box, containing about $1,200, taken away by the robbers. One of the shooting party, who turned out to be a member of the Jesse James gang. Rewards were offered for the detection and arrest of the perpetrators, but neither ever came of it."

The next summer, one day while traveling along the road toward Independence, Missouri, I met a single horseman, and we soon became engaged in conversation. We did not exchange cards or names, but rode along into the town on pretty good terms, and a few moments after we separated I learned that my companion was none other than the notorious Jesse James himself. It was his last ride, and that he had just sold a year before, but did not recognize him as one of the participants. Among the people it was the general impression, and I have never heard it contradicted from a reliable source, that Jesse James recognized the role of a highwayman when a single person was concerned, but took a delight in frightening large crowds when in search of booty. His men knew that shooting over the heads of the spectators would alarm them fully as much and create more of a panic than by killing people in cold blood, and hence their forays were always attended with a great deal of noise, but little violence toward their victims.

Queer Chinese Fads.

When a child is taken sick the parents believe that one of its souls has wandered away and is lost; so the poor mother runs to the open air and cries, "Lai! lai!" "Soul come home! soul come home!" and the father hastens out into the street and crosses the nearest bridge searching for the lost spirit; he hears the mother's wailing and cries back the answer in a wailing, "Lai! lai!" Then a paper flag is burned in the house for the soul to ride home upon, and the mother, still wailing her weird cry, begins to search for the lost soul. If she is rich and the first thing of the kind she finds is supposed to contain the missing spirit. When it is a fee or a bottle.

When it is a fee or a bottle, a great cry of joy, wraps it in paper and places it under the pillow of the suffering child, and expects an immediate recovery. And, doubtless, if the child is old enough and not too ill to partake of the mother's faith, recoveries (mind cures) are frequent enough to perpetuate the strange superstition. Foreigners say that this notion will bring upon the still night air is almost to add to be endured.

Reasoning by Contraries.

"Tell you Hyde is as trustworthy a man as you can find anywhere." "What! Jim Hyde, a reliable man? Why, he is noted for never telling the truth." "To be sure, that's the very reason you can always depend upon him; if he tells you a thing you know it isn't so."—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

American Fork.

We are utterly at a loss to understand why it is that, if American pork-packers are really anxious to secure a market for our pork product in Germany and France, they should not long ago have availed themselves of a plan which is perfectly feasible, which requires no legislation, and which will certainly insure the admission of our product in the prohibited countries, or else compel these countries to base the prohibition solely upon the ground of protection to home industries. There are certain well known facts which underlie this whole matter—facts which are patent to every intelligent man upon both sides of the ocean, facts which are just as well known in Government circles of Germany and France as in this country; and these are, first, that a small proportion of the swine produced in the United States are affected with trichina, and, second, that we have no official inspection in this country. Germany and France, in both of which countries large quantities of swine flesh are consumed in a raw state, have prohibited the introduction of American pork upon the ground that it is dangerous to the health of the people. Our newspapers, our politicians and our swine-breeders have inveighed against this prohibition as a useless and unwarranted procedure on the part of these Governments, and our pork packers and some of our most influential newspapers have asserted in the most positive terms that the swine of this country are entirely free from trichina, while those of Germany and France are largely infected with this parasite; and our politicians have raved, and our newspaper writers have scribbled and scrawled against what they have termed the unwarranted action of the French and German Governments in prohibiting the introduction of an American product which, as these parties assert, is perfectly safe under all circumstances, while the foreign product is dangerous.

THE United States Supreme Court Monday decided adversely to Judge Terry in his petition for a habeas corpus looking for his release from the Alameda county jail. The brief telegrams received state the Court ruled against the Judge on every point he raised, and but the briefest digest of the opinion of the Court is given. Whatever may be the equities of the case, opinions are divided as to the justice of imprisoning him for such a lengthy and unusual—in contempt of Court proceedings—time.

Lost in Transit.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Some irregularity has been discovered in connection with the transfer of silver dollars from the Mint at New Orleans to Washington for storage in the large new vault in the court yard of the Treasury building, which has resulted in the loss of $1,500. The Treasury officials refuse to speak of the matter and very little is known beyond the fact already stated. The silver is shipped by the Adams Express Company and the loss will probably fall upon it unless it can be proved that the packages containing the money were tampered with before they came into its possession.

A Thin Explanation.
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 13.—Elbridge Jordan, who with his family has arrived at Boston, was, it is said, required to leave Durham, N. C., because he was believed to have incited negroes to break open a construction car of the Northern & Durham Railway Company and possess themselves of 100 dynamite cartridges, and also was believed to have incited negroes to burn the residence of Caleb Green, which was actually destroyed with other buildings in this town.

A Prince Aground.
COPENHAGEN, Nov. 14.—The German ironclad Kaiser, with Prince Henry of Russia on board, went aground this morning in entering the harbor. Prince Henry was brought ashore in a steam launch and was met at the landing by King Christian.

The State of New York Prosecuting a Sugar Refinery.

After the Sugar Trust.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A suit has been brought by the Attorney-General in behalf of the people of the State of New York, against the North River Sugar Refining Company to dissolve that corporation, on the ground it had exceeded the privileges granted it by its charter, in becoming one of the members of the great sugar trust on the first of October, 1887. Other sugar companies were brought to trial to-day in the Supreme Court. This action is one of the results of the Senate Investigating Committee of last Winter, which for the first time brought to light the deed of trust under which the different sugar companies have formed a combination. It was substantially agreed at the outset, by the counsel, that there would be no contrived question of fact for the court to pass upon, but it would merely be a question of law. The formality of the drawing of a jury was then gone through with. The jury was told that as the only question at issue was one of law, for the court to pass upon, their services would not be needed at the trial. They were only required to be present at the end of the case to go through the formality of rendering the verdict as directed by the Court. The counsel agreed that the testimony to be offered would not take any very great length of time, and that after to-day they would ask to have the case adjourned until Wednesday next, in order to argue the questions of law. With this understanding, the jurors were dismissed until next Wednesday. Attorney-General Tabor opened the case for the people, and stated that the North River Sugar Refining Company, by entering into a combination with other companies had created a monopoly by putting the price of sugar into the hands and under the control of a Board of Trustees of a trust which usurped the powers granted by the franchise of each company. George H. Miller, who was Secretary of the North River Sugar Refining Company, was the first witness called by General Pryor. He identified the deed of the Sugar Refining Company's trust.

The Nicaragua Canal Company Incorporated.

MONTPELIER, Vermont, Nov. 14.—An Act incorporating the Nicaragua Canal Company passed the Legislature yesterday. It is the same Act which was introduced in the United States Senate last session by Edmunds. Acting on the advice of Edmunds, who drew the bill, the parties interested in the enterprise decided to ask the Vermont Legislature for a charter. Several of the incorporators named in the Act are Vermonters, including Frederick Billings and Col. Franklin Fairbanks. The gentlemen named appeared before the joint Legislative Committee last week to testify concerning the proposed measure. Promoters of the enterprise stated that they were all ready to begin actual work on the canal as soon as the charter was obtained.

The Directors are J. C. Marble of Van Wert, Ohio; S. O. Houghton, L. R. Winans and L. F. Scott of Los Angeles, and C. W. Scott of Moncton, Michigan. The principal place of business is in this city.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Rear Admiral Baldwin's physician said this morning that his patient was resting more easily, and may linger a few days before death puts an end to his sufferings.

Arrival of a Missing Steamer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The steamer Schiedam, from Amsterdam, about whose safety fears have been entertained, arrived this morning.

The Parnell Commission.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—While hearing the witnesses in reference to the outrages proceeding before the Parnell commission to-day, counsel for the Parnellites complained of the bad effect on his client's case of parading such a great amount of crime ascribed to the action of the league while the connection between the incriminated persons and the outrages are very slight; that a limit ought to be put on the amount of evidence admitted. Presiding Justice Hannen said if the commission could not form an opinion upon whether the persons against whom the charges are made could be connected with the outrages, they would be unworthy of the position, if unable to keep their minds in a state of equilibrium. Upon this point he hoped, however, it would be found possible to curtail the amount of evidence of this kind. Attorney-General Webster then read a long list of the outrages.

Knights of Labor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 14.—The Knights of Labor convention re-assembled this morning and took up the reports of the General officers and committees. Powderly's report will not be presented till late in the afternoon. The report of Treasurer Turner for the year ending June 30th last, shows receipts of $222,000 and expenditures the same. The supplementary report to November 13th, receipts were 56,000, and the expenditures $43,000. Mrs. L. M. Barry, general investigator of woman's work and wages, gave an interesting resume of her labors, with suggestions toward the amelioration of woman's lot. The report of the General Executive Board is a voluminous document, containing an account of all matters acted on by that Board.

Women in Council.

DETROIT, Nov. 14.—The sixteenth annual Congress of the Association for the advancement of women, met here to-day, with 250 members present. Among the more noted members present, are Miss Calliope Keckigo of Constantinople, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, Miss Frances Willard, Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell of Elizabeth, N. J., and Mrs. Ada M. Erickson of Denmark. An executive session was held this morning, followed by an address of welcome by Mrs. Howe, this afternoon. The Congress continues three days.

Logan Released.

EL PASO, Nov. 14.—Major Logan who, with a number of United States soldiers, was arrested while hunting in Mexico last Sunday, telegraphed the facts to the United Collector of Customs here. He states that his arrest was made by agents of the Mexican Customs, and not by customs officers. The Mexican Collector of Customs at Juarez telegraphed to Chihuahua for an order for his release and obtained it.

A Dangerous Prairie Fire.

ABERDEEN, Dak., Nov. 14.—A small prairie fire which started yesterday afternoon to the west of this city, has assumed alarming proportions, the wind sweeping the flames through the tall dry prairie grass toward the city. The fire brigade is endeavoring to fight back the flames. It is greatly feared the town will be destroyed.

Opposed to Annexation.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Lord Stanley, Governor-General of Canada, came out squarely against the annexation sentiment in Canada in replying to an address of welcome from the French Canadians. He declared that the Canadians were not less free than the citizens of the United States, while freed from the distraction of constantly recurring elections.

Founders at Sea.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The British steamer Black Watch, foundeded Nov. 12 in latitude 36 north, longitude 19 east. The fate of the crew is unknown. She was an iron screw steamer of 936 tons, and sailed October 20 from Naples for Odessa, and was probably returning from Odessa when she foundered.

The Turf Congress.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The American Turf Congress convened here to-day with closed doors. The business under discussion are the questions of an increase of weights and the licensing of jockeys. No Eastern clubs were represented, but it is believed that overtures will be made looking to such representation.

Uncaring the Dead Bodies.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 14.—Twelve more bodies were uncared this morning in the ruins of Friday's fire. In addition to the eleven taken out yesterday, this makes 33 dead accounted for. There are probably ten or twelve yet in the ruins.

Keeping Their Memory Green.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The Crispus Attucks monument, dedicated to the victims of the affair in King street, on March 5, 1770, known to history as the "Boston massacre," was unveiled to-day.

A Murderer Hanged.

LEBANON, Pa., Nov. 14.—Shortly after eleven o'clock to-day William Showers was hanged in the jail-yard for the murder of his two grandchildren at Annville, May 17, 1887.

Serious Accident.

DEDHAM, Mass., Nov. 14.—The new ice houses of the People's Ice Company were blown down this morning. Six workmen were seriously injured, and four are believed to be fatally hurt.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

Bar silver 98 3/4.
Arizona has elected a Democratic delegate to Congress, while both branches of the Legislature are strongly Republican.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

The Heading of Parsons' Letter Causes Lamentations.
A Chicago dispatch of the 12th instant reads as follows: There were something like 4,000 men and women yesterday who visited Waldheim Cemetery to do honor to the memory of the Chicago Anarchists hanged just one year ago. The women wore black and the men had a piece of crape fastened either on the hat or coat. There was no parade but the people filed into the cemetery preceded by a band. A number of speeches were made, but nothing of an inflammatory character was said. The letter left by Parsons, marked to be opened one year after his death, was read. It urged his children to be industrious and true to themselves, and said that in doing so they would prove themselves good citizens. There were sobs and lamentations from those who heard the letter read. Everything connected with the services was quietly conducted, and the crowd dispersed without any disorder.

The Make up of the Lady's Clerk.

An Eastern exchange says: The latest fact—I think fact is what they call it—is to have a lady's clerk in the house. You know that it is no uncommon thing for a lady to come to the office and settle her bill now, just the same as a man. Well, old chaps like me are not considered good enough to wait on a lady any more. Hence the lady's clerk. We've got one of them that looks like the hind end of an old-fashioned wagon-cover; has trousers that are cut on the same pattern as the harem pants in "The Corsair." He has a sort of late-in-the-Sun air about him—I mean languid look. He eats up a dollar's worth of tooth-picks in a day and gets mint from the bar-keeper to wear in the button-hole of his coat. I suppose it is all right, but I never wanted to be a cowboy in my life. I don't want to be here, and I think now of going into the business.

Reckless Election Betting.

The Truckee Republican says: One young man bet his Summer savings on Cleveland, and when the first bad news came tried to sell his bet for fifty cents on the dollar, saying that he could not afford to lose his money. There are others who also lose nearly their entire Summer savings, and a cold Winter is coming. Out in Sierra Valley there was some extravagant betting. Two Republicans bet all they had—horses, cows, wagons, hay, grain, hogs, besides the money they had, and could borrow. A couple of Democratic ranchers covered these bets with all articles, and one even mortgaged his farm to get money to be on the election.

More Tariff Reform.

A Washington dispatch of the 12th inst. says: President Cleveland will commence his annual message to Congress during the present week, and, like the document he sent in a year ago, it will be devoted almost exclusively to the tariff. He will urge Congress, without regard to party policy, to pass a bill for the reduction of the revenues, and will urge the Democrats, as well as the Republicans, to make concessions in order that it may be accomplished. The President intends to go out of office as he came in, a revenue reformer.

Railroad Speculations.

Officers of the Utah and Western Railway say that the road will be completed from Ogden to Sioux City in eighteen months. Officials of other lines say that the Utah and Eastern is an independent corporation, which they affect to believe is securing the right-of-way on speculation. Surveyors are at work on the line.

A Popular Sheriff.

While Cleveland carried San Joaquin county, Cal., by nine plurality, Cunningham, the Republican candidate for Sheriff, carried the county by a plurality of 3,219, showing that the past services of that noted horse thief catcher are duly appreciated.

A Disgraced Marshal.

At Phoenix, A. T. Saturday night, the Democratic City Marshal arrested two prominent Republicans for firing sky-rockets at the ratification meeting. The arrests were made under an old law which had never been enforced before.

Painted Red.

For the first time in its history, Fremont county, Iowa, went Republican this year by a plurality of 19, and the Sidney Herald in the above county, made out two days after the election printed in red ink.

Obituary.

On the morning of the 8th inst. the gentle and gifted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brandon, after a short illness, yielded up her pure spirit into the hands of her Creator, at the early age of 15 years, 11 months and 8 days, and on the 9th inst. all that was left of the once kind, gentle and noble Laura Belle Brandon was laid in the tomb.

Rest thou in peace; with blessings on thy head. Passed to the land where sinners dwell. Gone, but not lost; we will not call thee dead. The angels claimed thee. Dear Laura, fare thee well.

Craved with Grief.

Marie Berthune, crazed by the loss of her husband in the terrible mining accident at Frontenac, Kan., threw coal oil on herself and her five children and then set fire to the oil. The building was destroyed, and she and four of her children burned to death. One child, nine years old, made her escape, but was tragically burned.

Another Fishery Treaty.

It is stated in well-informed circles at Ottawa, Canada, that Joseph Chamberlain has been intrusted by the Imperial Government with secret instructions, looking to the possible opening of negotiations for a new fisheries treaty.

A Hard Winter.

The Chicago Mail says: "It wasn't for nothing that the corn husks were thicker than usual this year, or that the form of the breast-plate of the goose has been ominous. It is going to be a hard winter for Democrats."

MIRROR OF IRELAND.

A Complete Panoramic View of the Green Isle.
 The Virginia Report says: The Dan Morris Sullivan "Mirror of Ireland" combination unrolled their famed panorama of that most beautiful land on Saturday at Piper's Opera House. The panorama starts at Dublin and takes one through the entire country. Explanatory lectures are given by Maurice Daniels, and the celebrated Irish sketch artists, Dan Morris Sullivan and Josie Morris Sullivan, "Barney" and "Nora" keep up a pleasant tide of mirth and feeling by their songs, dances and sketches as the scenes unroll. The performances close with three grand allegorical pictures of Ireland. The paintings are realistic and well executed views—real mirrors of the beautiful land—and the songs and sketch acts are excellent.
 The attendance at the matinee was fair and a good house greeted the company in the evening.
 To appear this evening at McKisick's Opera House. Tickets and reserved seats at Nasby's Bazaar.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

The Winnemucca Silver State of the 13th inst. says: Yesterday Sheriff Fellows received a dispatch from Chief of Police Crowley of San Francisco to arrest and hold for embezzlement Annie Willoughby, who was supposed to be a passenger on the east-bound train. The Sheriff and Deputy Nofsinger were on hand when the train arrived, and soon had the woman and a man named Louis Trandle, who accompanied her, in custody. The woman had $500 and the man $440, all in gold, on their persons. She said she won the money in the lottery, and that the man had nothing to do with it, except that she gave him a part of the coin to carry for her. She claims to have a husband in San Francisco, and she telegraphed one Harry Brown in that city to help her out of the difficulty.

Senator Jones is Worthy.

Under the above heading the Austin Reveille says: The newspapers have begun to speculate on the next cabinet. Nevada wants J. P. Jones for Secretary of the Treasury and no other. The Pacific Coast should combine on him as their man for a cabinet position. He was talked of strongly for this position under Arthur's administration. A friend of silver should have a chance once in a century.
 A private letter from San Francisco received by a GAZETTE reporter leads to a belief that Senator Jones' claims for a cabinet position will be strongly urged by his Pacific Coast admirers, and by the believers in a "double standard," everywhere.

A New Restaurant.

James Say is fitting up a restaurant opposite the V. & T. railroad depot. He calls it the Grand, and grand it is to be. Everything is first-class, and Sunday morning it opens. Go and take your family and have a Sunday dinner fit for the gods. The menu can not be excelled. The Grand will fast go to the front and supply a long-felt want for a first-class restaurant.

The Mongolian Leavag.

The Fresno, Cal., Republican says: There is no doubt but what the Chinese are leaving this part of the country never to return. Not only are they leaving from the town but they are coming in from the country as well as disposing of their horses, wagons, farming implements, etc.

The Result in Lander County.

Returns from all the precincts in Lander county, except Cortez, Clipper and Kingston, give Harrison a majority over Cleveland of 78; Bartine a majority over Cassidy of 13; Sewell a majority over Murphy of 30. The Democrats elect most of the county ticket.

A Murdering Thief.

On the Fair ranch, near Knight's Landing, Cal., last Friday, Ah Kit, a Chinaman, brutally hacked En Hah with a knife, stole $300 or $400 from him and fled. En Hah lived long enough to describe his assailant, and he was arrested at Woodland Monday.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.
 Mrs. Howard sold 150 tons of hay yesterday for $12.50, baled.
 Several of the ranchers are feeding their hay at $9 per ton in the stack.
 Frank L. Coombs of Napa, Cal., is being booked for Speaker of the Assembly.

TESTING THE MILK.

Of from 5,000 to 6,000 cows daily. Mr. Inglis appends the rules of one of these dairies, in which the terms of membership, the mode of withdrawal, the quality of the milk, and state in which a member is to deliver it at the central dairy, the winter feeding of the cows, the appointment and duties of directors, and various other matters are provided for. It is said that the system of paying for milk according to the quality of cream contained in it, which was introduced in 1886, in eight dairies, has proved an excellent means of awakening interest in the quality of the milk, and in making farmers more careful. Farmers go through a course of instruction in

BUTTER MAY ACQUIRE.

A peculiar sweet and greasy flavor. Cotton-seed cake is not much used; carrots are the best root fodder, and it is believed that in future swedes and other turnips will be but sparingly used. M. Inglis has investigated certain depreciatory remarks in English papers on the quality of Danish butter are due to the great care devoted to its production, and to the beneficial influence exercised by co-operative dairies, which lay down standards, and an English judge at the recent Copenhagen exhibition emphatically asserts the purity of Danish butter and the utter absence of adulteration on the part of the farmer. The reports contain plates representing the ground-plan of a working dairy at the exhibition, a section of the cream separator most in use in Denmark, and other testing and separating appliances.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Attorney of Clay county, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."
 Mr. D. L. Wilcoxson, Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters."
 This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure, all malarial diseases, and for all kidney, liver and stomach disorders stands unequalled. Price, 50 cents and $1, at Hodgkinson & Co.'s drug store.

Price Applies.

A. M. Ward of Ward Bros. brought to the GAZETTE office to-day the finest bellflower and Rhode Island greening apples this reporter ever saw. Twelve of the bellflowers weigh nine pounds, and for flavor they are unequalled. The above fruit was raised on the Ward Bros' ranch on Bear creek, Surprise Valley, Lassen county, Cal., where, owing to the distance of the locality from railroad communication, these kind of apples are selling for one cent per pound.

Justice's Court.

For three days Justice Young has been engaged in the examination of P. J. Kyne, who is charged with stealing $220 from the foreman of C. Derby's ranch.
 The examination of J. T. Adams, charged with being a cheat, will follow the case now on trial.

A Valuable Footstool.

DANISH DAIRIES.

The Co-operative system a success.

The British Foreign Office has just published a report of great practical interest about dairy farming in Denmark.
 In 1887 there were 900,000 cows in the different Danish dairy farms, divided among 150,000 owners, and the total annual export of butter, which averaged 19,000,000 pounds between 1877 and 1882, rose to 32,000,000 in 1886 and 45,000,000 in 1887. This notable increase is attributed in a great measure to the rapid increase of the use of the centrifugal cream separators, of which there are said to be 2,200 in daily use. Not the least striking movement is the extension of the co-operative system to dairy farming. At present there are said to be 200 co-operative dairies.

TESTING THE MILK.

Of from 5,000 to 6,000 cows daily. Mr. Inglis appends the rules of one of these dairies, in which the terms of membership, the mode of withdrawal, the quality of the milk, and state in which a member is to deliver it at the central dairy, the winter feeding of the cows, the appointment and duties of directors, and various other matters are provided for. It is said that the system of paying for milk according to the quality of cream contained in it, which was introduced in 1886, in eight dairies, has proved an excellent means of awakening interest in the quality of the milk, and in making farmers more careful. Farmers go through a course of instruction in

BUTTER MAY ACQUIRE.

A peculiar sweet and greasy flavor. Cotton-seed cake is not much used; carrots are the best root fodder, and it is believed that in future swedes and other turnips will be but sparingly used. M. Inglis has investigated certain depreciatory remarks in English papers on the quality of Danish butter are due to the great care devoted to its production, and to the beneficial influence exercised by co-operative dairies, which lay down standards, and an English judge at the recent Copenhagen exhibition emphatically asserts the purity of Danish butter and the utter absence of adulteration on the part of the farmer. The reports contain plates representing the ground-plan of a working dairy at the exhibition, a section of the cream separator most in use in Denmark, and other testing and separating appliances.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Attorney of Clay county, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."
 Mr. D. L. Wilcoxson, Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters."
 This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure, all malarial diseases, and for all kidney, liver and stomach disorders stands unequalled. Price, 50 cents and $1, at Hodgkinson & Co.'s drug store.

Price Applies.

A. M. Ward of Ward Bros. brought to the GAZETTE office to-day the finest bellflower and Rhode Island greening apples this reporter ever saw. Twelve of the bellflowers weigh nine pounds, and for flavor they are unequalled. The above fruit was raised on the Ward Bros' ranch on Bear creek, Surprise Valley, Lassen county, Cal., where, owing to the distance of the locality from railroad communication, these kind of apples are selling for one cent per pound.

Justice's Court.

Something New.

On Monday morning, November 12th, I will open out a fine line of ladies' Jersey jackets in all the leading colors which I will sell at the low price of $3.50 each. These goods are sold all over this coast for $5, but as it is well known that I sell close for cash, that is the reason I give the ladies who buy for cash this opportunity of getting one of these fine fleece-lined jerseys for the above price. In Love With His Wife.

"What can I do to regain my husband's love?" writes Mrs. Carrie R., of Toronto. She adds that seven years ago she was married under the most happy auspices, and until six months since, happiness crowned her domestic life; then her husband became dissatisfied in his manner toward her, until now he is positively cold. Mrs. R. gives no details, but if she is afflicted with diseases peculiar to women, if her cheeks have lost their bloom, and her eyes and her eyes their sparkle, it may explain the cause of her complaint. In this event Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will effect a magical change and restore her to health. As a powerful, invigorating tonic, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages, in particular. For overworked, worn-out, run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, shop-girls, housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to lose time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist on getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottles free at Hodgkinson & Co.'s drug store. Large bottles, $1.
